Rollins In Your Budget

HAVE you noticed that after Christmas comes New Year's—with almost unseemly haste! Even before you get your Christmas presents paid for, you are asked to make out your "budget" for the New Year.

This is a gentle reminder that in making out your budget for 1938, you should include a gift however small—and no matter how large—for the Alumni Fund of your Alma Mater. This remembering Rollins through a gift to its Alumni Fund is a happy and rewarding habit.

It isn't the size of your pledge that matters—it is the fact that you have "not forgotten". The most precious asset of any college is the loyalty of its Alumni. Few of us can give a dormitory—or endow a chair—but we can all spare a five dollar bill—some of us fifty dollars—as an expression of our loyalty and indebtedness to the College that opened the Door of Opportunity for us.

Why not make it a Christmas or New Year's gift—and incidentally make yourself a little happier throughout the year? If all the Alumni—three thousand of us—gave only five dollars apiece for the year 1938 it would total fifteen thousand dollars, which is the equivalent of six percent interest on an endowment fund of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. We may not be able to give the principal—but we can easily give the interest which means even more to Rollins. WHY NOT?

The following is a list of contributors to the Rollins Alumni Fund since September 15th. For those contributing from January 1st to September 15th please refer to the March, June and September issues of the ALUMNI RECORD.

Gifts to the Fund constitute a proper deduction under the U. S. Income Tax Law.

BENEFITS

ON November 10th and 11th The Alumni Association sponsored the second showing in the United States of Rex Beach's famous novel, THE BARRIER. It seemed quite fitting for the Association to have the first showing in the East of Mr. Beach's novel filmed by Paramount. And as a result the Alumni Scholarship Fund is $30 richer.

Tuesday afternoon, December 14th, under the very able direction of Isabel Green and her committee, the alumnae of Winter Park and Orlando gave a benefit bridge at the home of Dr. Holt in Winter Park. Many attended and $47 was realized for the 1937 Alumni Fund for Emergency Scholarships.

1937 Football

OUT of the maze and concentrated rush of a busy 1937 season of Rollins football the Tars emerge with a record of five wins and four losses. The victory trail was glorious on occasions, yet the blemishes along the road were blotches of disappointment that left ardent supporters of the Blue and Gold with nothing but bitter taste.

Jack McDowall's veteran array of juniors, strengthened by likely looking sophomores, beat South Georgia State, Wofford, Oglethorpe, Tampa and Newberry. They completely botched their season with losses to Southeastern Louisiana, Ohio Wesleyan, Millsaps and Stetson.

Yet, with a record such as the season of 1937 produced, the Tars' prospects for another season—that of 1938—are not unpromising. Rollins sees only one senior, Gerard Kirby, graduating, and one of the strongest freshman clubs in its history migrating to the varsity.

The eleven was slow in rounding into form at the opening of the season. Ollie Daugherty gave promise of a great season with his ball carrying duties, and Rollins eked out a close victory over South Georgia State, 13-6. Daugherty and Curry Brady both tallied on short plunges. After only two weeks of practice, the team had much to improve.

Southeastern Louisiana hit Orlando primed to defeat Rollins. The Tars, on the other hand, a bit overconfident and not polished, found themselves with a battle on their hands.

It was soon determined that a break would decide the ball game. Rollins received theirs in the fourth period. Snooks McInnis, running mate of Daugherty, broke loose on Southeastern's 40-yard line and scored untouched; but a clipping penalty against Rollins nullified the score. In the closing minutes of the game, Southeastern blocked Curry Brady's punt recovering the ball deep in Rollins territory. Carlin passed to Nelson who picked the ball out of the air in a diving catch and the game was over.

Rollins soon embarked on their longest trip in the history of intercollegiate sport at Rollins for their encounter with Ohio Wesleyan. This game was a nightmare. With McInnis and Daugherty collaborating in a quick two touchdown lead, the Tars let up and the home team walked off the field with a 26-13 triumph. Once again Daugherty pulled the spectacular with a 72-yard romp for a score.

Determination marked the practice sessions following the Ohio disaster. Wofford took the brunt of pent-up feelings and Rollins whitewashed the visitors, 37-0. Buck Johnson led the attack with three touchdowns, Daugherty tallied twice, Mo Miller once.

On the sweet wings of victory, the Tars were still hungry when they met Oglethorpe. The Stormy Petrels were also swept aside by a high scoring machine which this time racked up 34 points and held their opponents scoreless. Bill Daugherty was on the receiving end of two passes, Mo Miller one, while McInnis and Joe Justice each chalked up one counter.

These two wins were too much for the Tars and the team went down to defeat the following week. Ollie Daugherty was the sole offensive contributor with two scores of 66 and 41 yards respectively.

The Tampa game was typical of the Rollins 1937 football season. The Tars rushed to a 20-0 lead in the first half, and then wasted away its brilliance by allowing the visitors to score 18 points in the last half. McInnis romped to pay dirt three times.

Another let-down was experienced the following week against Newberry's Indians at Leesburg. Rollins whitewashed the lads from South Carolina but lost many scoring opportunities, winning by 13-0. Curry Brady, in his best game of the season, accounted for both scores, the second on an intercepted pass and a 44 yard run for a touchdown.

Rollins met Stetson on equal footing for their closing game of the season. The Tars, with the Little Four title at stake, once again entered the game with the wrong mental attitude, failing to realize their mistake until the middle of the second period when Stetson had scored 15 points.

Rollins came back in the same stanza when Bill Daugherty trapped Curry Brady's long punt in Stetson's scoring territory, after which McInnis hit right tackle for the first Tar tally.

Completely monopolizing the play in the second half, the Tars pushed the Hatters all over Tinker Field until McInnis scored at the beginning of the fourth period. After an exchange of kicks, the Tars once again began driving towards the Stetson goal line. Three straight first downs put the ball on the eight yard line with only thirteen seconds of play remaining. Two passes failed and Stetson won, 15-12.

The team will open its 1938 season on January 1 playing the Cuban Navy in an invitational contest.

HOMECOMING

HOMECOMING was celebrated in fair style on the Rollins Campus this year. Dr. Holt started the program off with an informal "Open House" for all returning alumni. About 40 called during the afternoon. Delicious refreshments of cakes and orange juice were served.

At 6:30 a dinner was held in the College Commons. Attending the dinner were: Dr. Hamilton Holt, Leon D. Lewis, St. Petersburg, Mrs. G. O. Wallace (Marjorie Blackman), LaBelle, Berkeley Blackman, Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Powers, Frank Palmer, Eustis, Viola Wilson, Orlando, Louise Weeden, Orlando, Rodman Lehman, Dean Arthur Enyart, Miss E. Ethel Enyart, Mr. and Mrs. Carter Bradford (Nancy Rohlfing), Burleigh Drummond, Mansfield O., Mary Elizabeth Jones, Orlando, Marcella and Sally Hammond, Henry Mowbray, Donald Cheney, Orlando, Loretta Salmon, Mazzie Wilson, Sadie Pellerin, Jacksonville, Rebecca Caldwell, Lake Wales, Marion Mulligan Stoner, Bertha Phiel Bobbitt, St. Petersburg and Katharine Lewis.

Immediately following dinner everyone motored to Orlando for the football game between Stetson and Rollins. A great many local alumni were seen at the game. Among the out-of-towners were Bill and Dot (Smoak) Rice of Eustis, Stanley Warner of Crescent City, Cloyd Russell of New Orleans, Harry and Betty (Dickinson) Kelly of Tampa.

President Holt's Message

As the season of peace and goodwill swings around again I find my thoughts turning to the graduates and former students of Rollins College who are scattered throughout the country and even the world. At this time, especially are they thinking of their alma mater and all that it means to them.

Rollins has not yet a body of alumni comparable in size, distinction or wealth to many of our older sister institutions, but I do not believe there is a college in the United States more beloved by its sons and daughters than Rollins.

I have never doubted for a moment the loyalty of the Rollins family. I know that everyone of you stands ever ready to give time to Rollins and, according to your ability, your money. But how many of you keep the college home fires burning? At this season of faith, hope and love why not each one of you write a holiday letter or at least send a card to those of your classmates who meant most to you while you were here in college? There seem always to be some members of every college class who never answer letters from the class secretary, who never come back for Reunions and who never keep up the ties of friendships so happily begun in college days.

I remember when I was just out of Yale and received my first invitation to attend a class banquet, I expressed to old Dr. William Hayes Ward, editor of the Independent, my doubt as to whether it was worthwhile to go. I shall never forget the outraged way in which he turned upon me and said "Never let your college friendships die." And I have found in the last 40 years that in so far as I have followed his advice it has been one of the wisest things I have ever done, for the college friendships have grown deeper and richer with the years, and next to the ties of blood, have been the most satisfying experiences of life.

As you come back to the campus in after years you will always find changes. The students will eye you with amused tolerance as old grads, you will see few or none of the faculty whom you knew here. But you will all grow old together and that means you do not change to one another as the years come and go. And so I say to you love and cherish one another. In no other way can you better serve yourselves and bless your alma mater.

A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to each and every one of you.

THE FLAMINGO

"In quality, in high grade performance, I am willing to put it beside any similar college publication the country can produce." So said Dr. Richard Burton, one of the foremost literary critics of today, of the first issue of The Flamingo.

Alumni subscriptions will receive prompt attention and will be greatly appreciated. The subscription price is $1.25 a year—the first issue is just off the press. Checks should be made to William Barr, Business Manager, The Flamingo, Rollins College.

Gifts . . .

By A. J. HANNA

A Thrilling Drama in Five Acts

ACT I

I AM quite excited tonight over something that may prove interesting to you Mr. Hanna," wrote Miss Mary McLaughlin on March 31, 1937, after a busy day teaching school in St. Augustine. She referred to a plan which she and Miss Lillian D. Twiss, a winter resident, had suggested to Miss Clare Benedict. The plan called for the addition to Rollins of a large and valuable collection of memorabilia of the late Constance Fenimore Woolson, Miss Benedict's aunt, whom Dr. Fred Lewis Pattee hails as dean laureate of Florida writers.

ACT II

The McLaughlin-Twiss-Benedict Plan appealed very strongly to officials of Rollins College, one of whom wrote to Miss Benedict on April 8, 1937. He described the unusual literary atmosphere surrounding the college and assured Miss Benedict that because Rollins was generally considered the literary center of Florida, the placing of such a collection would be highly appropriate and deeply appreciated.

Rudolph Fischer, Rollins alumnus of Switzerland, called on Miss Benedict when she was in Basle (Rudolph's home), to supplement the information sent from Florida. He ably interpreted the ideal of Rollins and explained its program.

ACT III

President Holt visited Miss Clare Benedict on August 6, 1937, at the Hotel Schweizerhof in Lucerne. He outlined to her his conception of what Rollins should be and how it is approaching that ideal. Miss Benedict was so gratified to learn that there was such a college in the United States that after further consultation with President Holt she decided to make a gift of $5,000 and thus enlarge original plans for the memorial.

ACT IV

On November 14, 1937, the Orlando Sentinel carried an announcement of a notable addition to the Rollins campus. It was the Constance Fenimore Woolson House for Literature. The purpose of the gift is to provide a small, intimate, meeting place for faculty and students of the English Department and to provide also a dignified and permanent museum for Woolson papers and relics.

A biographical sketch of Miss Woolson will be found in the Dictionary of American Biography. She was born in New Hampshire in 1840, spent her childhood in Cleveland and was educated in private schools in New York. Her kinship to James Fenimore Cooper was featured at first by her publishers. ### Two Stained Glass Windows Unveiled TOWARD the conclusion of the morning meditation service in the Knowles Memorial Chapel, Sunday morning, December 12th, two new stained glass windows, the one in honor of Dr. Hamilton Holt, President, the other in honor of Dr. Charles Atwood Campbell, dean of the Chapel, were unveiled.

Irving Bacheller, trustee of Rollins presided at the unveiling and spoke, briefly, introducing Mrs. Frances Knowles Warren donor of the chapel and of the two new windows, and Wilbur Herbert Burham, the Boston, Mass., stained-glass artist, who designed and executed the new windows.

Dr. Holt's window depicts a figure of Erasmus, the great scholar, humanist and theologian, who is holding the book and pen symbolizing that he was the first man of letters to appear in Europe after the fall of the Roman Empire. Dressed in the costume of his time the figure is beautiful in drawing and rich in color, contrasting admirably with a geometric Renaissance pattern of silvery whites.

The window in honor of Dean Campbell depicts St. John Chrysostom, the great doctor of the Greek Church and Bishop of Constantinople. He is shown in the rich vestments of his office, holding the open book in one hand, while the other suggests the attitude of preaching. St. John Chrysostom was the greatest preacher ever heard in a Christian pulpit.

Both windows are framed by rich borders in heavenly blues, glowing rubies, brilliant yellows, and whites. They are Renaissance in design and character to conform with the architecture of the chapel, which was designed by Cram and Ferguson of Boston, Mass.

five years ago Miss Woolson began her winter trips to Florida. The environs of St. Augustine aroused in her a new creative spirit. The latter part of her life was spent in Europe. In addition to short stories, Miss Woolson wrote five novels: Anne, 1882; For the Major, 1883; East Angels, 1886; Jupiter Lights, 1889; Horace Chase, 1894.

ACT V

To appear in a subsequent number of the Alumni Record.

News of Rollins Writers

By ROBERT BLACK, '35

THE critical years prefacing the incidents which plunged our country into the most devastating war known in the history of human experience is the subject of the 6th volume on the life of our War President, Woodrow Wilson, by Ray Stannard Baker, recipient last year of the Algernon Sidney Sullivan medallion. The book, Woodrow Wilson, Life and Letters: Facing War, was recently released by Doubleday, Doran & Co., Garden City, N. J., and sells for $5.00. This in the biographical series on Woodrow Wilson by Mr. Baker is significant to your reviewer in that it is a reminder that international incidents now featured in newspaper headlines are comparable to some extent to the incidents of only twenty years ago which plunged this country into war.

Literary

Old Age and How to Live it Down is the title of a new book on which Irving Bacheller, dean of the Rollins literary colony, started work when he returned to Florida recently. His last book, A Boy for the Ages (see this column for Sept.), published in September by Farrar and Rinehart, Publishers, has gone into its second edition. Mr. Bacheller is scheduled to publish his memoirs next February. Edwin Granberry, noted Rollins novelist, praised Mr. Bacheller's last book in a review published in the New York Sun.

Rollins students, too, are not entirely inactive in the literary field. Here's a little bit of high literary merit, coming from a likeable Rollins youngster who is rapidly making a name for herself in creative writing. Her name is Alice H. Booth, '39. She has had many of her poems published in major magazines, and this summer two of her poems appeared in Christian Century, entitled "War Son" and "With Time."

The 1937 Tomokan, published by the Senior Class, has been given an All-American rating for 1937 by the National Scholastic Press Association in Minneapolis, Minn. We are told that the Tomokan was one of only 21 college yearbooks to receive this recognition, and one of three from colleges with enrollment less than 500 each. Helen Keywan, '37, of Ossining, N. Y., was editor-in-chief and Dr. Edwin O. Grover was faculty adviser.

Speaking of poetry, Mrs. Riley M. Fletcher Berry, '90, of Sanford, Fla., has been honored by having one of her poems, entitled "Christmas Trees of Long Ago," included in the Christmas Lyrics of 1937 an anthology published by the Beacon Publishing Co. of New York. A reprint of the lyric appeared in the Sanford (Fla.) Herald under date of November 17th, last.

Notice has been received of a new book of poems, Higher than Hills, by Dr. Richard Burton, eminent poet, author, critic and dramatist, and a member of the Rollins faculty, which will be published shortly by The Poets Press of the National Poetry Center in New York City. This will be the 22nd book written and published by Dr. Burton. We anticipate its appearance with pleasure.

Art

Before me is a newspaper clipping of exceptional interest. Virginia Robie of the Rollins faculty, who is to be remembered in the art world as former editor of the House Beautiful and as the author of Historic Styles in Furniture, By-Paths in Collecting, Sketches of Manatee and The Quest of the Quaint, has accepted an invitation from the editors of World Book Encyclopedia to contribute articles on "History of Furniture" and "Interior Decoration" for the forthcoming new edition. Miss Robie also has a large European following, and the editors of Principal Women of America, a volume being published by the Mitre Press in London, has asked her to contribute a sketch of her life for that publication.

History

Aside from his strenuous activities of teaching history and discharging executive responsibilities such as directing alumni activities, helping Dr. Holt with the Financial program, and multitudinous other duties, Fred Hanna, '17, finds time to write books and to be active in many organizations, one of the principal of which is the Spanish Institute of Florida, of which he is president. In a publication released recently by the Committee on Public relations of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish, entitled Why Spanish? A Catechism for Teachers, Professor Hanna has an article in answer to the question, "Does Spanish offer a sufficient challenge to students of superior intelligence?"

Those of us who were fortunate to get a copy of the limited edition of Professor Hanna's latest book, Fort Maitland, will be gratified to learn that this treatment of the history of Florida (Seminole Indian War) received a favorable review last month in the Journal of Southern History. In part it reads, "The book is interesting as an example of the careful study of a local subject. The work is carefully done and is well documented. . . . The study demonstrates clearly that the materials for teaching and training in history are on almost every hand. . . ." The review concludes with the statement that Fred's book is a contribution "both to the field of history and to that of pedagogy."

Flight into Oblivion is the title of another book by this Rollins author, now on the presses of the Johnson Publishing Co. of Richmond. This is a documented narrative of the Confederate Cabinet following the close of the Civil War, bringing in many little-known facts and a vast amount of new material not available to other historians on this period. Several unpublished diaries form the basis of the book. Professor Hanna's style is fluent and easily readable. In his book he has followed the thrilling accounts of many narrow escapes and exile, or capture and imprisonment of each member of the Confederate Cabinet. Most of the shifting scenes of action are staged in Florida.

Club Notes

Washington

Dr. and Mrs. Stiles entertained the Rollins Club of Washington delightfully at their home in Washington on October 8th. It was a purely social gathering; favorite stories of days at Rollins were swapped and the evening was most enjoyably spent. Mrs. Stiles served delicious refreshments.

Among those attending the meeting were Lottie Turner, Dr. Frederic J. Lewton, Marian Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brooks, Jonathan Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Luther McDowall, Bernice Uphof, Mrs. E. M. Fletcher, Constance Etz and Dr. and Mrs. Stiles.

New York

One of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held by the Rollins Club of New York took place on the evening of October 20th at the Town Hall Club with Dr. Holt as the honor guest. Dean W. S. Anderson, Mr. E. T. Brown and Dr. William R. O'Neal were also guests of the Club on this occasion.

Over 75 alumni and former students attended the meeting and were delighted to hear President Holt's account of the opening of another year at Rollins, and to be brought up-to-date on campus activities. Dean Anderson, Mr. Brown, Mr. O'Neal, as well as Dr. Howard Fox, an honorary alumnus of Rollins and a classmate of Dr. Holt's, spoke briefly.

Later in the evening a short business meeting was held, at which time the annual election of the Board of Directors took place. Elected were Eleanor Arnold, Robert Black, Virginia Clough, Nancy Cushman, Sally Limerick, Jack MacGaffin, George Porter, Robert Stephens, Elfreda Winant and Ted Williams. Advisors to the Board of Directors were elected as follows: Roger Shaw, Asa Jennings, Beatrice Holt LaVenture, Severin Bourne and Mrs. Robert Pollard (Nonie Emery).

About 50 members of the New York Club enjoyed an out-door party at the Albert Shaw's on the afternoon of October 31st. The weather was "perfect" and a good game of baseball started the party off. A huge bonfire made an ideal stove for cooking the hot-dogs. Songs were sung and stories told until it was time to get back to the City.

Philadelphia

The newly organized Rollins Club of Philadelphia held a meeting on the evening of November 3rd. President Holt was the honor guest. The meeting was held in one of the small parlors of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel. Dr. Holt spoke, following which there was a short business meeting. Eva Thompson was elected to fill the place left vacant on the Board of Directors by Raymond Colado as Ray has been transferred to Cleveland. Other members elected to the Board were Rev. Paul P. Faris and Russell T. Barr. Helen Jackson was elected secretary of the Board.

Among those present were President Holt, Mrs. G. B. Barrett (Laura Anders), Helen Steinmetz, Mrs. August Ulmann (Liva Pearl Frazer), Mrs. Joel B. Wells (Sydney Evans), Eva Thompson, Dorothy Manwaring, Barbara Parsons and Helen Jackson.

Jacksonville

The Rollins Club of Jacksonville held two very important meetings on Nov. 16th and Nov. 23rd. Both meetings were called to discuss plans for the presentation of the Rollins Chapel Service in Jacksonville on the afternoon of December 5th in the Riverside Presbyterian Church. On Nov. 16th Mrs. Richard Marks, Professor A. J. Hanna and Miss Katharine Lewis from Rollins were the speakers. Mr. George W. Gibbs, president of the Club presided at both meetings.

On November 23rd another meeting was held to acquaint a larger number of alumni in Jacksonville with the program to be held on December 5th.

Class Notes

Special Reunion Classes For 1938

1913	1932
1914	1933
1915

Faculty

Prof. Harry Pierce, speech instructor and debate coach at Rollins for the past eight years, received the honorary degree of Doctor of Oratory from Bob Jones College, Cleveland, Tenn., last June at commencement exercises. Professor Pierce was graduated from Northwestern University and has taught at Mount Union College in Alliance, Ohio, at Ohio University and at the Boston Lyceum School of which he was president.

The late Dr. William S. Franklin, one time Professor of Physics in Rollins, is the subject of a significant article in the "American Physics Teacher" of February, 1937. In this magazine there is an account of the award, posthumously, for notable contributions to the teaching of Physics to Dr. Franklin by the American Association of Physics Teachers.

Dr. H. E. Shiver, who formerly taught Chemistry at Rollins, is now head of that department at Converse College in Spartanburg, South Carolina. He is hoping before long to be able to spend the holiday season in Winter Park and to greet his many friends here.

The Gay Nineties

Chairman: Henry B. Mowbray, '98, 442 Chase Ave., Winter Park.

Grace D. Bingham, '93 and Lillian Bingham, '08, had a wonderful trip during the past summer, spending two months in Los Angeles, three weeks in San Diego, two weeks in San Francisco and then on up into Washington State and to Lake Louise and back to Evanston where they spent another two weeks visiting.

Mrs. Harry Huntington (Gertrude Pelton Shutts), has traveled extensively since she left Rollins, where she had charge of the gym for two years and took special courses. Having covered most of the world, she is now living in Hollywood, Calif., and sees quite often Ida Lamson Volby and occasionally Mary Evernden Steetzel, who lives in San Diego.

MRS. RICHARD P. MARKS

Mrs. Richard Marks (Kathryn Slemmons) was responsible for the splendid congregation which gathered in the rain at the Riverside Presbyterian Church of Jacksonville on the afternoon of December 5th to hear the Rollins Chapel Service. Mrs. Marks representing the Friday Musicales of Jacksonville and the alumni of Rollins was chairman of the committee in charge of presenting the Chapel service as the Christmas vesper of the Friday Musicales. It will be remembered that last year Mrs. Marks received the Rollins Decoration of Honor for the outstanding work she has done in the field of music in the State of Florida.

(Editor's note: Mrs. Mowbray's many friends will regret to learn that she fell in her home recently, cracking a bone in her right leg.)

Leila Russell and Douglas Lonsdell Byrd were married in the Fifth Ave. Presbyterian Church, NYC, on August 28, with only the two families and a few friends present. Elizabeth Russell Fuessle, Leila's sister, was matron of honor, and B. Latham Kidder, best man.

Leila took her law degree at Stetson after leaving Rollins. Admitted to practice before both Florida and New York bars, she practiced in Miami until 1931, when she went to New York, where she has since been practicing. She served as Florida State President of the League of Women Voters and during Coolidge's administration was first resident assistant to U. S. District Attorney, the first woman to hold that position.

Mr. Byrd, a Princeton graduate, served with distinction in the 4th Division during the World War. He spent a number of years in the Far East as advertising representative of the Vacuum Oil Co. At present he is engaged as merchandising and advertising counsel in NYC.

A. Smith Fletcher and Marian Richard, '24, were married in Auroa, Ohio, on November 11. They spent their honeymoon in Florida, visiting Miami, attending the Rollins-Newberry game in Leesburg, and spending Thanksgiving and the day after in Winter Park.

Bob Sedgwick has been elected president of the North Chicago Chamber of Commerce. Projects this year include a housing program and the organization of a branch of the Boys' Brotherhood Republic.

Easter Russell was on the campus during the summer and visited with Jean Wagner Shannon. Impressed with the campus, she said, "The new buildings are beautiful, and what a change in the whole aspect of the campus! Cool green lawns where formerly we waded through sandspurs!"

Ephriam Conway, married to Agnes Townsend, is now pastor of the First Methodist Church in Moore Haven.

Frank Palmer is down in Eustis for the winter. "Red" came over for the Homecoming activities.

Dorothea (Forbes) and Philip Reece are occupying their home on College Point in Winter Park this winter.

Abbie Rollins, who received her Ph.D. in 1937 at Yale, is now Research Assistant to the Head of the International Relations at Yale.

Katherine Hosmer accompanied a group of 6 of her students from the Summit (N. J.) High School to the second annual Scholastic Press Clinic held at Rutgers University. This Clinic is a part of the Journalism department of Rutgers and is proving to be a very definite aid to young journalists. Kay writes that her work in the High School and on the High School paper is most interesting.

Freda Kuebler, Secretary of Dr. George E. Carrothers, former Dean of Rollins, will spend the holiday season with her family at Shiloh, Fla., near Titusville. She is looking forward to seeing a large number of her old Rollins friends while in Florida. Doctor Carrothers is Director of the Bureau of Cooperation with Educational Institutions at the University of Michigan.

10th Reunion in 1939

Lois Bartlett Tracy is one of ten American artists whose work is to tour the United States under the auspices of the American Federation of Art. Two prominent New York galleries have invited her to exhibit her paintings and to become a life member. She is now at work on exhibits in five places in New York, all by invitation.

Harry, Allen and Lois bought the Venice-Myakka Hotel in Venice and have also a small summer hotel in New Hampshire.

Helen, '30, and Russ Fuller with their children, visited in the New England states during October.

After leaving Rollins, Elio Gianturco studied at Columbia University, where he received his Ph.D. degree in Romance Languages and Literature. His thesis was on Joseph de Maistre and Giambattista Vico. At present he is teaching graduate courses in Italian and Spanish literature at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C., and is also working on a translation of Vico's Scienza Nuova and doing research for a book he hopes to write on Vico's influence on modern American Sociology.

He and his wife live at 2633 16th St., N.W.

Horace Walker, more familiarly known on the Rollins campus as "Bud", with his wife and young daughter, are now living in Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Leech (Mary Veasey) announced the birth of a daughter, Mary Susan, on August 21st. They are living at 302 N. Chester Road, Swarthmore, Pa.

Bernhard Siegel writes that he has received his Doctor's degree from the University of Hamburg and is now law counsel for the Nordsee Atletices-Gesell in Weserunicnde, Germany.

Word has been received of the tragic death on October 15th of Albert "Bus" Warner in an automobile accident. Bus was alone in the car, driving over to Norwalk when something happened and his car left the road and hit a stone wall. He died without regaining consciousness. At the time of his death Bus was employed as a salesman for the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. with headquarters in Poughkeepsie. The sympathy of his many Rollins friends are extended to his parents.

9th Reunion in 1939

The "comeback" on the class letter last month was exceedingly meager, but it is good to know that a few faithful souls remain.

John McClellan of Andover, Massachusetts, was the first to respond even though he could not return for the homecoming game. The next time you get as far south as Washington, D. C., John, try to stretch on the rest of the way for a glimpse of the new campus.

Another prompt reply came from Ruby Quick White in Albany, New York. Her two children, five and two and a half years of age, keep her busy, and she says she is getting a different slant on education now that Carter has started to kindergarten.

Next came a card from Harriett Gleason, sending good wishes for the team. She still lives in Van Wert, Ohio.

Gerry Miller has moved into a bigger and better office of which he is justly proud. He has all new equipment and some of the finest in this section of the country. A short wave diathermy (whatever that is) has opened up lots of things for him, he says, and then he speaks about removing tonsils and operations!

Not having anything startling to relate is the reason given by Cecile Piltz for not having written before. But if having received a J.D. degree, studied international law at the University of Colorado, and spending a year as graduate fellow at the Northwestern Law School, to say nothing of having her name on the firm letterhead, isn't something to write about, I'd like to know what is! 'Cile is with Franchot and Schachtel law firm in New York City and says it is lots of fun.

Henrietta Kuhl Edwards is in Columbus, Ohio, where her husband is completing his Ph.D. at the University. Please accept congratulations on the son, even though it is about two years late!

And that's all. The few items following came in via newspapers and little birds. Except sometime in October Peter Berger wrote from Budapest, Hungary where he is now teaching in a German College and where he is very happy. Last summer he met Miss Mary Leonard at Salzburg where they enjoyed the musical festivals together.

Helen Carr is in a rest sanitarium at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, and would enjoy hearing from any who have time to write her a line.

Ruth and Cloyd Russell with their young hopeful are spending a vacation in Sanford, and we hope will let us have a glimpse of them before they return to inspect more fish.

Sometime during last summer Chet Ihrig lost his appendix, but we hope he is better for it.

Gottfried Dinzl has risen high in the service of his government in Vienna, and hopes to pay us a visit whenever he can get away.

Being a lady of leisure and keeping house takes most of Eleanor Blish's time, it is said.

If anyone wants not only one thrill but two, go out to visit Harrison Cobb and have him take you to the bottom of his gold mine where you can see the ore glistening in the veins; the ride down the narrow dark tunnel in a bucket is breath taking, and trying to keep the helmet and miners lamp on while crawling through the passages is a never to be forgotten experience. Then have him take you over an old railroad grade to Rainbow and Glacier Lakes, and back up Lick Skillet Hill for a ride to be remembered always.

Red Delamater attended the summer session at the University of Colorado, and we just missed meeting each other at Harrison's house.

Bob Boney is worse than a Mexican jumping bean when it comes to keeping up with him, but we think he is located in Lake Placid, Fla., for a while, until the fruit is marketed, at least. Bob is a government inspector and has been all the way from Florida to New Jersey inspecting everything from fruit to potatoes.

According to a report in the Tampa Tribune, Luke Moseley went back in as City Clerk in the town of Wauchula, Fla. with a landslide. The election was held early in November. Congratulations, Luke.

Herrick McConnell has moved to Atlanta, where he has accepted a position with the U. S. Civil Service as an assistant examining clerk. He and Mrs. McConnell are living at 660 Boulevard, N.E.

Billy Chapman has been "free lancing". For the past year and a half Billy has been acting as social secretary for different well known personages. Just now she is serving ten different parties, three among whom are authors, and she likes it tremendously.

Rev. Burris Jenkins, Hon., of Kansas City, Mo., has recently completed 30 years as pastor of the Community Church in Kansas City. On Oct. 6th Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins were honored with a dinner at which Dr. Edgar Jones of Detroit, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America was the principal speaker. Dr. Jenkins has been intensely interested in the newspaper profession in addition to his ministry and has been active in that field. His son, Logan, is a graduate of Rollins having been graduated in the Class of 1933.

Candace, '31 and Jim Armstrong are proudly announcing the birth of James Glover Armstrong, II, born in Orlando on October 9.

Harry Fosdick and his very attractive wife are now living in National City, California, Harry having accepted a position in the high school there. The Alumni Secretary had a most interesting visit with them early in September in Los Angeles.

The engagement of Jean Simmons to William Augusta Boas of Charlotte, N. C., was recently announced. No date has been set for the wedding.

Peter Stoner was recently appointed a member of the New Haven Sales Department of the Spencer Co. Peter received his Master's Degree in English from the University of Vermont and has had several years of practical experience in business and teaching prior to his association with the Company.

The following appeared in the summer edition of Feakin's Notebook regarding Kismet Sirri:

"Kismet Sirri, the attractive young journalist from Turkey who first lectured to American audiences last year, is having an illuminating time revisiting her native land. With considerable experience and travel in America behind her she now sees her own country through new eyes. In a recent letter from Ankara she says, in part: 'I have secured a world of new and authoritative material about all phases of Turkish life. The Press Bureau has been quite interested and has promised to help me. In June the Bureau will give me a railway pass with which I shall travel extensively throughout Turkey. . . I am securing a collection of pictures and slides, and continue to take pictures of my own. Also, I have been in touch with the special secretary of Ataturk, who has promised me an interview with the President.' In addition to securing new lecture material Miss Sirri is working on a book."

Fred Welling has recently moved from Babson Park to Jacksonville. Fred is manager of a small private hospital in Jacksonville and can be reached at 45 W. Union St. He attended the Rollins service in Jacksonville on December 5th.

5th Reunion in 1938

A recently announced engagement of interest is that of Gwen Bartholomew to Terry Batnard Patterson of Orlando. Gwen attended Upper Iowa University and Rollins, and was a Pi Phi. Mr. Patterson is a graduate of the Law College of the University of Florida and is practicing law in Orlando. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Phi and Pi Delta Phi fraternities and the Blue Key Society. The wedding is to take place on December 18.

Marian Morrow was called home from New York early in the fall because her mother fell and broke her hip. Marian is remaining in Lake Worth for the winter.

Wallace Child is with the Commercial Credit Company headquarters in Santa Anna, California. Wally acted as guide to Los Angeles for Lottie Turner and Kay Lewis while they were there during September.

Wallace Goldsmith has embarked upon two most important undertakings—marriage and the writing of the life of Flagler. He and Mrs. Goldsmith (Margaret Stacy) are living this year at Mayport, just out of Jacksonville. Wallace's work on the life of the great Florida developer has already been accepted by a well-known publisher.

Twanet Evans has forsaken the warm climate of Florida for the snowy mountains of North Carolina. Twanet is teaching this winter at the Asheville Normal School.

Word has been received of the marriage late in September of Polly Dudley and Bernard Francis Merriam, 2d at St. Andrew's Church, Wellesley. A reception was held following the ceremony. They are at home at 17 Dunster Street, Cambridge.

A simple but very lovely wedding in the Frances Chapel was that of Virginia Orebaugh and Watt Marchman on the afternoon of Oct. 16th. A small reception was held at Virginia's home for members of the family after the ceremony. After a short wedding trip Watt and Virginia are now at home at 748 McIntyre Ave., Winter Park. So far as we have been able to determine this is the only Rollins couple to marry each having received two degrees from Rollins. Virginia received the A.B. and B.M. degrees in 1935 and '36 respectively and Watt the A.B. and M.A. degrees in 1933 and '37.
